BORDEAUX

Bordeaux enjoys the distinction of being the largest AOC vineyard of France, and this can be attributed to its great diversity of high-quality terroirs. The broad range of wines that it produces will satisfy every wine lover for every occasion, while offering a wide price range. Geographic factors and the styles of wine produced are what define the 'six families' of Bordeaux wines.

Best known for its reds, Bordeaux also produces excellent Sauvignon based dry whites and rich Semillon based dessert wines.

Bordeaux produces some iconic wines which are beyond the price point of most people. Whilst these famous names sprinkle stardust over the wines of this region, there are so many value for money and high quality wines which can suit all pockets.

Over the years we have developed wonderful relationships with a variety of properties from both the Right and Left bank. We are delighted to share these with you.
